

III. In-Depth Profiles

School Climate Dimensions: Sense of Physical Security

Safety: Sense of Physical Security

This scale focuses on the degree to which people feel physically safe in the school building and in the area surrounding the school. For example, have individuals themselves experienced physical abuse and to what extent have they seen others being subjected to physical harm such as pushing, slapping or punching?

For complete details on the items that comprise all of these scales, please refer to pp.100-132.
As a result of rounding, percentages may differ slightly from those on pages 11-13.
